

SCHÄFER Container Systems supports breweries in Italy

KEG range meets Italian demand

Neunkirchen, 06th September 2016. In future, SCHÄFER Container Systems will be intensifying its partnership with Italian beverage producers. The manufacturer of reusable container systems (KEGs) for beverages will be using its versatile KEG portfolio, which enables easy adaptation to customer wishes, to support Italian breweries in creating an individual brand identity. The company is currently looking for an agent to strengthen its local presence.

“The already renowned Italian wine industry, the rapidly growing number of breweries and the rising popularity of craft brewed beers has created a high demand for high-quality container systems among Italy’s beverage producers and restaurant owners. At the same time, the desire to present an individual brand identity to consumers is also increasing”, says Guido Klinkhammer, SCHÄFER Container Systems’ Business Unit Sales Director. So SCHÄFER is serving the demand for KEGs exactly to the Italians’ liking. After all, there’s lots of choice in SCHÄFER’s large KEG family: stainless steel KEGs, ECO KEGs with polypropylene top and bottom rings, polyurethane coated PLUS KEGs, SOFT DRINK KEGs, Party-KEGs and even self-sufficient dispensing systems. And on top of all this, these reusable KEGs also offer beverage producers a great variety of branding possibilities, besides a wide range of filling volumes. Diverse labelling processes and coloured design elements also sustainably strengthen the KEG’s appearance.
