

Schaefer Container Systems North America (SCSNA) Adds New President

Steve Markham Has Been Selected to Lead the New North American Division of German-Based Schaefer Container Systems

Atlanta, GA. – February 21, 2016 – Schaefer Container Systems, a leading manufacturer of stainless steel containers for the international beverage industry, has chosen Steve Markham as President for its new North American division which was officially opened in May 2015. Markham, who most recently served as President for BLG Logistics, Inc., the US subsidiary of the German-based BLG Logistics Group, has more than twenty years of experience in successfully navigating the challenges and opportunities of cross-cultural business.

Steve has served on the Board of Directors for the German American Chamber of Commerce since 2004 and served as Vice Chairman from 2010-2014. He has also served on the Board of the Alabama-Germany Partnership and on the UNC-Wilmington Cameron School of Business International Advisory Board.

Markham's experience and track record of success in leading European companies' business growth into the North American market will be invaluable as Schaefer Container Systems strives to better serve customers through direct partnerships.

"I am honored that Schaefer has entrusted me to lead the team as we work to continually grow this respected brand in North America," said Markham. "I am excited to work with the North American beverage industry specifically our valued partners in the exciting and rapidly growing craft beer market."
